COURT OF CHANCERY-Chancellor LESESNE presiding .- No business of public interest was transacted yesterday. The Court was occupied until 1 P. M. in hearing motions, when the case of BARCE-LEY US. BARCKLEY, a question on demurrer for a bill, was called, and the argument of the different Counsel consumed the time until the adjournment.

FIRE.—At half-past 7 o'clock yesterday evening the alarm of fire was sounded, and smoke was discovered issuing from the premises No. 55 Society street, occupied by Mr. C. MADSEN as a tobacco factory. The fire originated in the drying room, and was caused by some coals falling from the stove, which communicated the fire to some segar boxes that were on the floor. Beyond a thorough drenching of everything in the room and a general pilfering of loose segars, no damage was done and the fire was soon extinguished. Mr. MADSEN was insured in Messrs. Tupper & Lane's insurance agency for $4000, and his loss will probably be half

The sister of one of the boys, a very intelligent little girl, stated that Tom had threatened to slap her while she was walking in the street, and had used language to her which she couldn't mention, and that she told her brether, one of the defendants, and that he, with the other boy, attacked Tom with brickbats, and gave him the blows which he had on his head. The Mayor lectured them on taking the law into their own hands, and told them if they had come to the Guard House, and complained of Tom when he committed the offence he did, that he would have been arrested and punishsister of one of the boys, a very intelligent little did, that he would have been arrested and panished; but as they had chosen to obtain redress themselves to the disturbance of the peace of the city,

Charleston, S. C., February 18th, 1867.
CIRCULAR, No. 3.—The attention of the land-owners on the Sea Islands is invited to Sec. 11 of the Act to continue in force and to amend "An act to continue in force and to amend an act to establish a Bureau for the relief of Freedmen and Refugees," and for other purposes, passed July 18th, 1866.

"Bection 11. And be it futher enocied, That the restoration of lands occupied by freedmen, under General Sherman's Field Order, dated at 83-vannah, Georgia, January sixteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, shall not be made until after the crops of the present year shall have been gathered by the present year shall have been gathered by the present occupants of said lands, nor until a fair compensation shall have been made to them by the Assistant Commissioner."

In accordance with the preceding section, the land-owners cannot resume possession of the tracts of land covered by possessory certificates granted by General Sherman's Field Order No. 15, series of 1865, until they have complied with the conditions therein provided.

Corron THEFT.-We have often alluded to the urgent necessity that existed for a River Police, and have repeatedly called attention to the un-guarded condition of our wharves. It is true that there is, in nearly every instance, a private watchman to each wharf, and not unfrequently the same number of policemen; but they are not argus-eyed, and depredations frequently occur which they have not the power to prevent. A system of River Police or Detectives, who would ply their vocation in boats, would lessen the risk of theft that factors now fear, and the additional security imparted would make a wharf the terror of thieves, instead of a hiding place and a refuge.
On last Tuesday night two bales of sea island cotton were stolen from the British bark Regina, lying at Accommodation Wharf. Information was immediately lodged at the Detective's Office and officers Lavy, Davis and Henry appointed to in vestigate the occurrence. It was found that the thieves had taken a boat and carried it with their plunder beyond the city limits. A further search resulted in the discovery of the two bales stowed away in an old casemate in Fort Johnson. The missing cotton was instantly levied upon and brought to the city, where it was identified, and the track of the thieves being known, one was soon arrested, and his confreres will shortly be in the same situation.

This theft was certainly well contrived, and was done by experts who thoroughly understood their game; but they reckoned without their host when they imagine that they could elude the clutches of the law. The two bales were worth over $1000, the cotton being of the finest quality, and the care taken to conceal and preserve the booty, shows that the thieves were talented cotton pickers, and they will evidently appreciate the attention of a cell in the new penitentiary.

SLOW COACHES.—The practice has become so frequent to revile Charleston for being behind the age, that the assertion is now generally believed, especially when facts carry conviction with them. Although we have not retrograded, yet our progress has been by no means rapid, and in many instances our sister cities have outstripped us in the race. Our Fire Department is one that we have every reason to be justly proud of, and few volunteer organizations are to be found in a better state of efficiency. Since the introduction of steam it has met with increased favor, and the opposition ly disappeared. Savannah, Augusta, Atlanta, and other Southern cities, have all adopted the use of Steam Fire Engines, and in most of these cities they have added horse power to them, thus redoubling their efficacy. Atlanta recently pur chased a pair of cream horses for the use of their new steamer, and they have long been employed in the Northern cities as valuable adjuncts to the firemen. Charleston has never yet been able to adopt the equestrian touch, and the firemen are content to drag their heavy machines over unpaved streets; but the march of progress will not allow this long to continue. It will be seen that it is for the interest of the community that the engines should be prompt at a fire. In a paid department, where the men are always at their post, it would seem that horses might be dispensed with; lyze the bowels—gendering them so torpid that enormous doses of cathartic medicines have no effect upon are widely scattered, they are almost a necessity. This is particularly the case in Charleston, and if our energetic firemen would only increase their piest proportion of these ingredients, is found in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This famous force by the addition of two equines, they would get over the ground with greater speed, and their

THE ANDERSON PRISONERS .- We clip the follow ng extract from the Washington correspondenc of the Cincinnati Commercial:

Some further facts have recently come to light respecting Secretary Stanton's connection with the case of the four South Carolinians found guilty by a Military Commission of the murder of three Maine soldiers in October, 1865. It appears that Maine soldiers in October, 1860. It appears that the sentence of two of them was commuted by General Sickles; that Secretary Stanton, in view of the opinion held by the Supreme Court relative to the legality of military trials since the close of hostilities, recommended the commutation of the death sentence. The other two, who he says he believes were the anywheren were recently tried. death sentence. The other two, who he says he believes were the murderers, were properly tried before a military tribunal, justly convicted, but it did not seem to him proper to recommend their execution, in view of the opinion which he knew was held by the Supreme Court. He recommended the confinement of the prisoners at the Tortagas, but afterward changed the recommendation to Fort Delaware. He consulted no one but Gento Fort Delaware. He consuited no one but General Townsend as to the proper place of imprisonment, and recommended Fort Delaware because he thought it on the whole the best of the military prisons for that purpose. ONE OF THE HOME GUARD.-A "draft sneak" has turned up in Memphis court proceedings. A news paper of that city gives the following account:

A petition was received from one S. W. Elliott, praying that his name be changed, setting forth that he was a resident of Oneida County, N. Y., when the war began, and named Silas E. Smith, but wishing to avoid the draft, he left the State, came to Memphis, and adopted the name of S. W. Elliott, and that he and his wife had gone under that name ever since. He now prayed that his name be changed back to Silas E. Smith. Judge Leonard remarked that this was probably the most remarkable document that had ever been submitted to the court. Justice Creighton moved that his name be changed, and that Justice Walker be allowed to name him. (Laughter.) Justice Miller moved to take away his name and leave him without any. (Laughter.) Justice Walker said that the court had nothing to do with it whatever; he could change his name forty times paper of that city gives the following account:

A FEW WORDS OF COMMON

DRUGS. CHEMICALS, ETC.

SENSE. SENSE.

How few there are who are not subject to some affection of the lungs or respiratory organs, who, by neglecting premonitory symptoms, aggravate the complaint, until disease strikes its shafts, causing inexpressible torture of the patient, and anxiety and distress to friends. "Only a cold!" "A slight sore throat!" is the heedless remark of many when so affected. Yes; "Only L. cold," was the thoughtless expression of thousands whom Death has marked for his prey.

Forewarned—Forearmed! should be the motto forever in the minds of all subject to Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, or Influenza. Words of advice should be heeded by all sulfering from Asthma, Bronchitts, Consumption. Relief is within their reach; and, if neglected, fath! consequences ensue—a life of misery—a daily, hourly struggle for existence. A contest in which there can be but one victor—Death!

ensue—a first of main which there can be but one victor—Death!

Does it not appal the strongest mind, to think of the result caused by neglect? Then why delay? What excuse can be offered, when timely warning is sounded in your ears? When the danger is pointed out, why not-avoid it? Mannen's Perroan. Balm has been used with success in nearly a million of cases, and is endorsed by the Medical Faculty as the most prompt and efficacious remedy that scientific research has discovered, to relieve and cure all cases of Colphs, Colds, influenza, and Consumption, if the case is not beyond all hope. Even when the sufferer is in the last stages, he will find relief by using this proparation. One bottle will convince the most incredulous, that the morties of this preparation are by no means enggented; in fact, fall far short of the eulogies bestowed upon it by thousands who have been cured by its: limely use. A guarantee accompanies each bottle and dealers are instructed in every instance to refund the money when this preparation falls to relieve.

December of the case of the proparation falls to relieve. Heve.
